. . . Pass the 721 of Us

Some are looking for knowledge and the hard work that goes with it; others come to learn new skills and gain the satisfaction it provides; still others are searching for something that will draw out their talents and capabilities; while all greatly anticipate graduation night and the receiving of diplomas. As graduation approaches, we find ourselves reflecting on our past three years, considering all that we have done and all the opportunities offered us after opening the doors of S.H.S.

Our doors are both realistic and symbolic. In reality,. new challenges are presented by them, whether they be in the academic field, the practical or fine arts field, the sports field, or in the many and varied activities and organizations that school life provides. Symbolically, they represent the future with its opportunities and responsibilities, and most of all, its successes.

Therefore, "door" is synonomous with challenge. If these challenges have been met with enthusiasm, optimism, and much diligent effort in high school, then they can be met with more confidence and courage in the future. On May 28, 1963, graduation opens a new door that will be another in a series that have already shaped our lives.

'62 Bali Hi . . .

Prom 1962

The step over a white bridge which spanned a small stream filled with tropical flowers, was truly a memorable one for the seniors and juniors attending the 1962 Prom. With this step, they were transported from the everyday high school gymnasium onto the glamorous and exotic South Sea island of "Bali Hi".

The Prom decoration committee, headed by Bob Bremer and Dan Barnett, had created a true night of paradise with a twelve-foot volcano, grass shacks, life-like palm trees, and hundreds of handmade flowers and decorated shells. The decoration which most attracted and amazed the Bali Hi "tourists" was the real cascading waterfall complete with live goldfish, surrounded by both fresh and artificial flowers and stones, and illuminated by two spotlights. Steve McGrew and his dance band provided the music for dancing under a blue tropical "sky" of hand-dyed gauze.

During the evening, sophomores, Jean O'Mara, Linda Jones, Steve LaBarbara, Dave Bird, Dan Bird, and Rich Adams, served "Bali Hi" nectar and chef's delights.

Prom 1963

"An Evening in Natchez" revived the days of southern belles and country gentlemen. The juniors and seniors danced in a flower garden wonderland complemented by the presence of a quaint wishing well. From the front lawn of a southern mansion, the band sent forth dreamy music into the air. Drifting lazily down the Mississippi was an old fashioned riverboat, paddlewheel and all, re-created by the skill of junior artists. The Paul Cross Gym was transformed into this southern paradise on May 10, but the memories of this evening will linger with those who attended for many days to come.

A flaming twelve foot volcano loomed over the dancers at the 1962 Prom.

Music And Physical Education Departments

Through the unceasing and enthusiastic efforts of the instrumental, vocal, and physical education departments, the 40th annual May Festival was presented on May 2.

The spectacular opened with Judy Trees and Jerry McMichael singing "Thank Heaven for Little Girls". To set the mood for the entrance of the May Court, twenty-four junior girls adorned in flowing frosty white formals danced to the melody of "Country Gardens". The air was filled with excitement as each couple on the court appeared until Lord Mayor Dan Barnett escorted the May Queen to her throne.

Special arrangements from broadway shows were presented by the choir. The group sang "Touch of Your Hand", "Lovely to Look At", "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes", from Roberta; "Climb Every Mountain", from Sound of Music; and "O, What a Beautiful Morning" from Oklahoma.

"I Could Have Danced All Night" provided a background for a modern dance. Couples danced to "Tea for Two" and square dancers entertained to the tune of "Isle of Capri". The majorettes did a dance routine to the popular song, "Alley Cat" played by the Goldenaires. The twelve girl chorus line kicked up their heels to the "Bunny Hop" also played by the Goldenaires. The band, attired in their new black and gold uniforms, marched and played for the audience. When the entertainment was over, the arch dancers made their formation once again, and the Queen and her court left the stage. Another memorable May Festival became history.

Tears of joy expressed Barb Benefiel's feelings as Lord Mayor Elton Linville proclaimed her Queen of the May.

Shelby's

Ann Schoelch and Dan Barnett

Ann's pleasing personality and charming smile have won her many friends during her four years at S.H.S. As president of the Booster Club, she was very busy during the football and basketball season, but she still found time to direct a Mask and Dagger play, to be an active member in Forum, and belong to G.A.A., the Sunshine Society, and Future Teachers. Ann also serves as the Class Secretary. She plans to wear a pastel pink formal for the big evening. Her escort, Dan Barnett, is the Lord Mayor of the May Festival. Dan is president of the Forum and the Robed Choir. He also is a member of the Hi-Y, Glee Club, Show Group, and S-Club. He is a member of the football, basketball, and baseball teams.

Peggy Vaught and Phil Smith

Forum, Future Teachers, Booster Club, Concessions, G.A.A., and the Sunshine Soiety have kept Peggy very busy this year. She plans to wear an apricot dress which will accent her dark brown hair and eyes. Peggy's escort is Phil Smith who served as concessions manager for the Squib. Phil has been very active in several organizations and plans to attend Indiana State College in the fall.

Jean Gehr and Don Sexton

Jean, known for her outgoing personality, reigned Prom Queen at the 1962 Junior-Senior Prom. As captain of the cheerleaders, Jean helped the team spirit at the football and basketball games. Jean is very active in Forum, G.A.A., Future Teachers, Sunshine, the Choir, and Student Council. She has chosen a blue taffeta dress with embroidered organdy. Jean will be escorted by Don Sexton, president of the Future Teachers and varsity basketball player. Don plans to teach history or math.

Seven

Nancy Scott and Mike Brunner

Blue eyes and blond hair are Nancy's outstanding features. During the year she has been very active in Forum, Sunshine, Booster Club, Student Council, and Future Teachers. Nancy is one of the S.H.S. news reporters this year. With Mike Brunner escorting her, Nancy will wear a crystal blue dress. Mike, whose hobby is folk music, is active in sports as well as music. He is a member of the varsity basketball team, the cross country team, and the track team. He is also in the Robed Choir, the Show Group, and the Glee Club.

Ann Woodmansee and Ron Cole

Ann participates in many activities such as Booster Club, Sunshine Society, G.A.A., and Mask and Dagger. She is also an office worker which keeps her busy. Ann's dress will be yellow organza. Her escort, Ron Cole, serves as Student Council President. He participates in varsity basketball, baseball, and cross country, and plans to coach when he graduates from college.

Mary Jane Dennis and Mike Staats

Blond, green-eyed Mary Jane, an office worker, plans to become a secretary. During the year she has been active in Booster Club, G.A.A., Sunshine, and is the secretary of the Robed Choir. Mary Jane plans to wear a shocking rose color dress with a white organdy overskirt. Senior Class President Mike Staats will escort her. Mike is very active in school affairs and attended the World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati.

Gloria Spurling and Sam Roberts

Gloria's cheerfulness and pleasing manner have won her much acclaim. She is a member of the Singing Stars and very active in other school organizations. Wearing a light blue dress, Gloria will be escorted by Sam Roberts. Sam is a member of the Hi-Y, Boys' Glee Club, Robed Choir, Cheer Block, and Show Group. He plans to attend Ball State Teachers College and major in mathematics.

In the chilly spring weather, men and machines began working on the S.H.S. addition.

More Doors

Several new doors were added to S.H.S. thereby increasing the opportunity for learning to those who would enter. An addition to the southwest corner of our building was completed in October, 1962. All of the students eagerly inspected and approved the new wing when it was finished seven weeks after school started.

Located on the first floor are two double sized rooms where students study biology. There is also a green house filled with plants grown by the students as well as specimens of rubber plant and lemon and banana tree. Driver education, Amercian problems, and advanced mathematics are taught in the other first floor classrooms.

The modern foreign languages, Spanish and French, are taught in two of the second floor classrooms and in the new electronic laboratory. In addition, history, English, and algebra are taught in the other three classrooms. Colorful student desks of blue, red, and salmon color complement the pastel walls in several rooms. Finally, a publications lab is provided for the Squib.

Everyone is proud of the new wing and looks forward to the future when an auditorium will be built.

The new wing, completed in October, 1962, provides space for increasing enrollments.

The cooks and custodians at Shelbyville High School deserve credit for the efficient jobs they did. Long before classes began, the cooks started preparing lunch for approximately 740 students and 36 teachers. A warm meal or a snack lunch was offered each day under the supervision of Mrs. Avonelle Branson, the dietician. With only a half hour for lunch and relaxation, students and teachers appreciated being served quickly by the cafeteria staff.

The custodians under the supervision of the head custodian, Harry Tucker, who has held that position for 22 years, kept an around the clock watch over our school. They worked at repairing jammed lockers, heating the school, helping the cooks, and cleaning and maintaining the building. The job of the junior high school staff is much the same, and in addition they must take care of the Paul Cross Gym.

Use Of Labs Develops The Language Arts

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

The addition of a language laboratory at S.H.S. was a highlight of the year. The spoken language classes — Spanish and French — used the lab several days each week during the second semester. The lab contains 30 individual sound booths with earphones and volume controls, ten of which have recorder sets. Speaking the language separately soon provides the students with better pronunciation ability, and it gives the teachers — Miss Nancy Cuskaden, Spanish, and Mr. Alan Coyner, French — a good idea of each student's efforts and talents.

French students wrote term papers as a special project for the year. The theme could concern any subject having to do with French history, art, or science.

For the first time at S.H.S. there was a third year Spanish class, which read Spanish editions of American magazines, short stories by famous Spanish authors, and practiced speaking and writing the language.

Because Latin is principally a written language, these students did not use the lab but relied mainly on reading materials. Mrs. Dorothy Plymate's "Romans" studied the conquests of Caesar, his diary, and Roman mythology. On a few unusual days, third year Latin students could be seen in the halls of S.H.S. in various styles of Roman togas, preparing to present original plays. A few of the plays were "Mr. District Attorney," "Cicero Walks with Washington," and "Lincoln at Midnight."

English Department

The accounts of Sir Lancelot and the Knights of the Round Table served as one of the outstanding works studied by the sophomore literature classes taught by Mr. Louis Kuhn, Mr. Jack Nieff, and Mrs. Dorothy Plymate. Junior literature classes began their study of American literature with the founding of the Plymouth Colony, went on through New England's Golden Day, and concluded with the modern authors, such as, Carl Sandburg and Robert Frost. These classes were instructed by Miss Marion Chenoweth, Mr. Alan Coyner, Mr. Daniel Kocher, and Mrs. Clarine Webster.

"Fair is foul and foul is fair" became a familiar phrase to the seniors who studied Macbeth in their English literature classes instructed by Mrs. Clarine Webster. Several other plays written by Shakespeare were assigned as outside reading. Miss Chenoweth directed her senior grammar students in the art of writing grammatically correct themes with interesting content.

Mr. Kocher's beginning speech class students learned the skills of convincing, informative, and often demonstrative speeches. Those in the advanced class also learned the fundamentals of dramatics.

Under the direction of Mr. Nieff, the developmental reading students increased their rate of reading and also their comprehension through the use of films, workbooks, and shadowscopes in the reading lab.

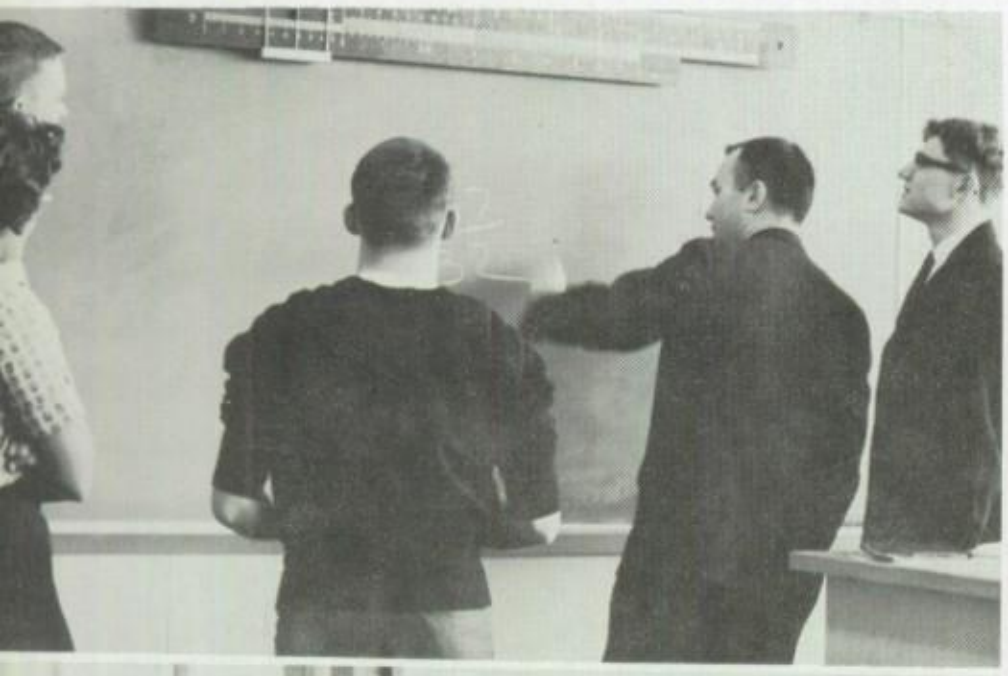
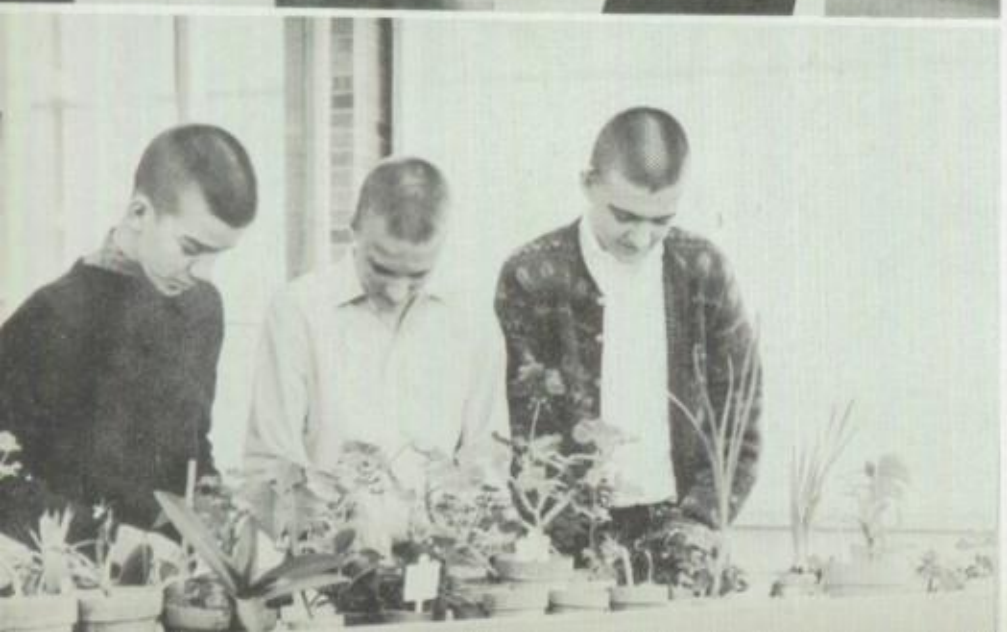
Math And Science Scholars Study Theoretical

Physics students step up for a closer view as Mr. McFerran begins to work a difficult problem.

Three green thumbs are better than one!



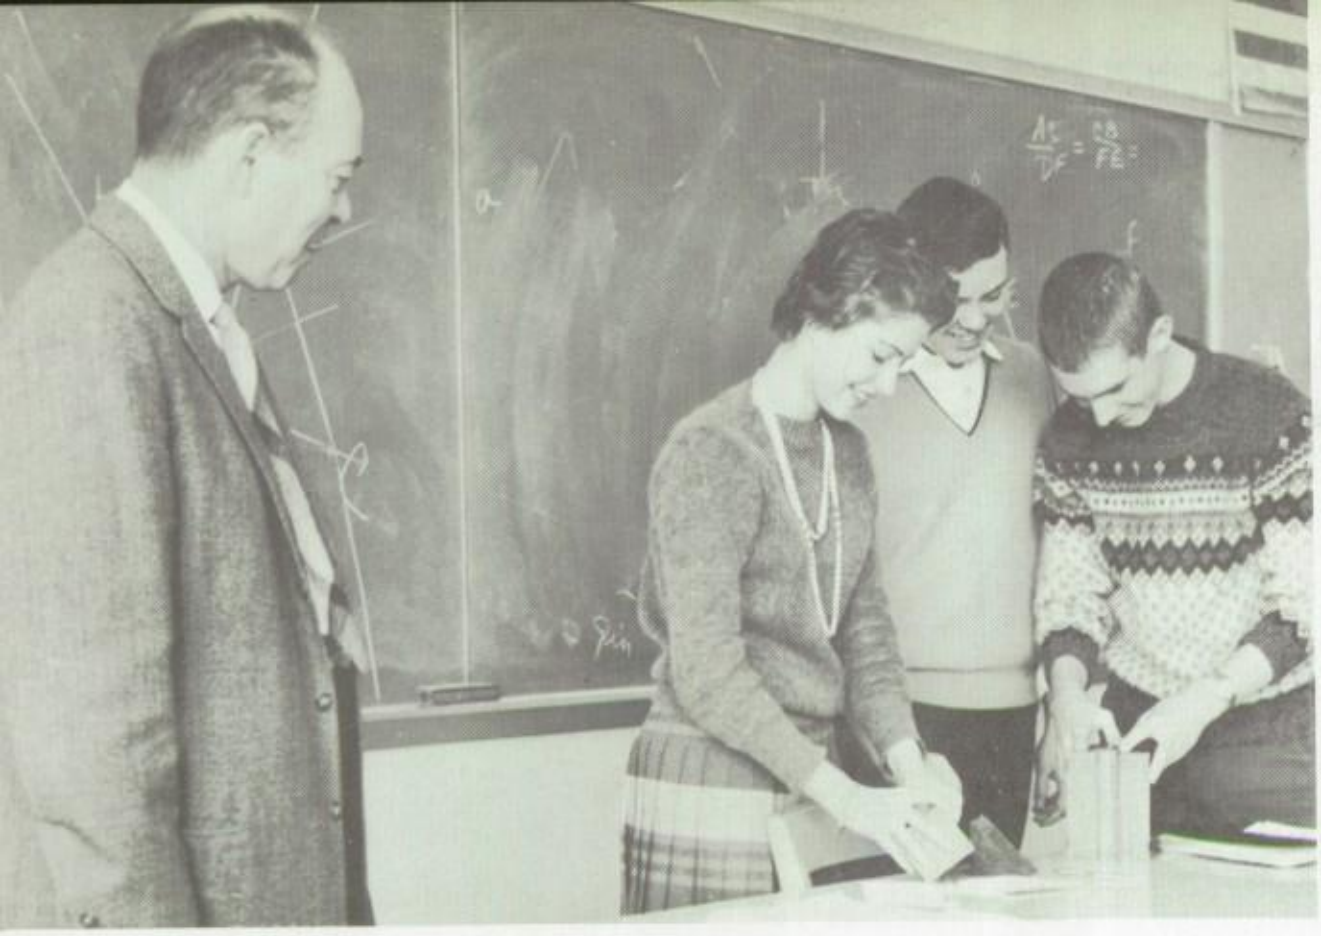


The study of mathematics and science develops clear and logical reasoning in S.H.S. students, besides adding to their store of knowledge.

The math courses include geometry, taught by Mr. Ray Beck, Mr. William McFerran, and Mr. J. M. McKeand; algebra, taught by Mr. McFerran, Mr. McKeand, and Mr. Lawrence Thompson; and trigonometry and calculus taught by Mr. McKeand. The classroom activity consists of explaining and discussing by word, gesture, sketch, and model the principles of mathematics. Required for college preparatory students, math teaches a systematic approach to problem solving which is helpful even in unrelated situations.

Science courses familiarize students with the mysteries of nature and develop in them an understanding of the physical world. Biology is the study of plant and animal life and is required for sophomores. Films and special projects aid learning. Mr. Arthur Barnett, Mr. Stephen Sever, and Mr. Garnett Winchester directed this course.

Chemistry classes studied the elements, performed experiments in class, solved problems and wrote equations, with the guidance of Mr. Thompson, teacher. Physics, taught by Mr. McFerran, views the world as matter and energy, and includes the study of machines, nuclear reactions, electricity, and light. Writing lab reports and working problems supplemented the activities of doing experiments and reading assignments.



These aren't building blocks, but geometric solids.

Is trigonometry REALLY that funny?

Advanced History Trains For College And

Advanced History

Advanced history is in its sixth year at Shelbyville High. Mr. Ray Hinshaw taught two classes again this year, having forty-two students. Their work consisted of term papers, essay tests, special reports, and larger units of work. Outside reading was required and more detailed study was needed in addition to studying the text and workbook which are used in the regular second semester of the junior year.

Mr. Emerson Bass's grade book seems to have opposing effects on Marty Miller and Gretchen Westerfield.

Social Studies

Students, as sophomores, studied The History of Our World. Their course covers ancient, medieval, and modern history in the European countries and in the United States. Teachers were Mr. James Davis, Mr. Loren Hemingway, Mr. Arthur Morgan, and Mrs. Irene Simpson.

Juniors studied American history which extends from the revolutionary period through the two World Wars to the flight of John Glenn. Their teachers were Mr. John Bass, Mr. Ray Hinshaw, and Mr. Arthur Morgan.

Seniors took American government, instructed by Mr. Emerson Bass, and learned how our government began and how it evolved through the years. Then for the second semester, they chose between economics, taught by Mr. Emerson Bass, and American problems, Mr. Frank Barnes' course. Economics teaches the organization and operation of the economy. American problems delves into the problems of living, why they arise, and how to overcome them.

Commercial geography, an elective taught by Mr. Davis, deals with the trade of all nations, their agricultural and manufactured products, and natural resources.

Economics student, Ronald Higdon, proudly points out to his fellow classmates the skyrocketing value of the stocks he "bought."

Mrs. Comstock looks pleased at the progress that Mary Beth Green is making in commerce class.

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." Training young people for the future business world is the daily occupation of the commercial teachers of S.H.S. The first year of shorthand, taught by Mrs. Rita Comstock, and of typing, taught by Mr. Everett Brown and Mrs. Betty Ramey, is mainly devoted to the mastering of the characters in shorthand and of the keyboard by touch in typing. Second year shorthand and typing, both instructed by Mrs. Comstock, has as its main objectives, gaining speed and dexterity. Also in this second year, there is an introduction to filing, using key-driven and rotary business machines, and a voice-writer.

Filing, bookkeeping, business terminology and letter writing, and business arithmetic are taught in bookkeeping by Mr. Brown, in business English by Mrs. Ramey, and in general business courses by Mr. Brown and Mr. James Davis.

There is a chance for office experience for those girls who have shown interest and ability in the commercial field and who have free study sessions to work in the office of the school. The office staff receives assistance with report cards, admit slips, telephone messages, letters, and, in general, with whatever task is at hand.

Home Economics Girls Pour Tea For Teachers

The S.H.S. home economics department teaches girls to be gracious hostesses and efficient home-makers. Students may choose among various foods and sewing courses, each of which specializes in a different domestic skill.

Any girl who has had one semester of home economics and is willing to participate in club activities may qualify for membership in the Home Economics Club. The purpose of the club is to give girls an opportunity to work and learn more about homemaking. One of the yearly customs is the annual initiation of new members. They also plan and carry out the annual faculty Christmas tea. The members prepare the food in class and act as hostesses for this event. No group can exist without funds; therefore their money making project again this year was selling assorted chocolate creams.

The officers were Ginger Higgins, president; Janet Hatfield, vice-president; and Janet Weddle, secretary-treasurer. Miss Jesse Bodem sponsors the group. She is also instructor of the food courses. Mrs. Doris Butler instructs the sewing classes.

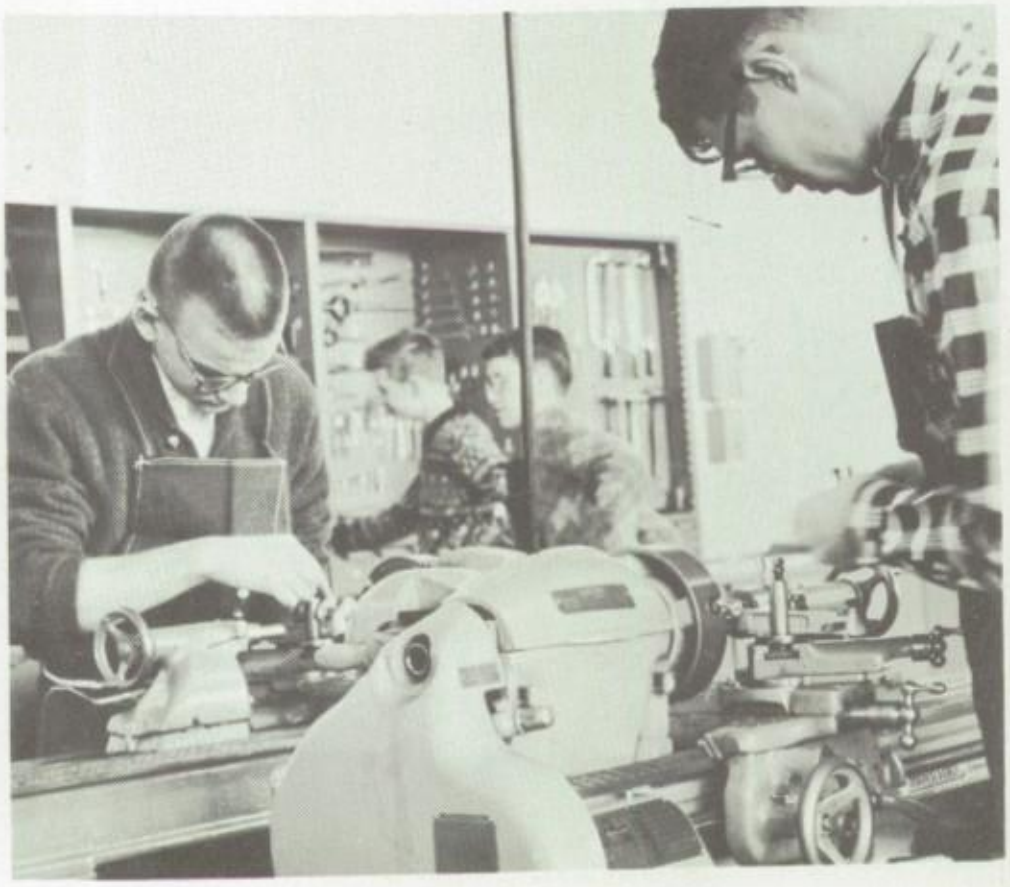
Shop Students Learn Useful Crafts

Industrial Arts

Whether a boy wants to be an engineer, a carpenter, a worker in industry, or a handyman with tools, the industrial arts curriculum offers him training.

Mr. Melvin Davies teaches metal shop in which pupils learn to weld, solder, rivet, and to use a metal lathe. The safe and correct handling of the tools is emphasized. Mr. Thomas Strawn instructs wood shop and drafting courses. In constructing furniture in the wood shop, students use power saws, drills and lathes. Projects include making various styles of lamps and tables. Drafting teaches the precise drawing of letters, figures, and building plans with the aid of mechanical instruments.



Intent on their work in metal shop are Bill Webster and Tom Smith.

Driver Education Teaches Traffic Safety

Students who take driver education may qualify one half year early for their operator's license securing it at the age of 16 years, one month, and one day, at the earliest. Another benefit for boys taking driving is lower insurance rates.

Driving is a one semester course in which students learn how the engine of the car operates as well as how the car is driven. They study diagrams of how to back into traffic and how to pass a car correctly. Each student has the opportunity to drive one day a week, supervised by instructor Mr. Dennis Blind. The remaining days he prepares his lesson for recitation and test day. A special assignment required of each student is the taking of a traffic survey from a street corner vantage point to determine traffic violations committed by vehicles or pedestrians.

Under the supervision of Miss Lorena Williams, S.H.S.'s art instructor, the art classes were busy with various projects which included several attractive displays in the front entrance showcase and in the corridors. Drawing, design, ceramics, lettering or commercial art, interior decoration, and costume design are included in the art department.

In the designing classes students learn various ways of using original ideas in design work. Drawing class consists of work in still life, landscape, and figure drawing with the use of live models. Pupils learn various methods and types of lettering in the commercial art class. In the ceramics class, a pupil has the privilege of appraising his artistic talents by making use of the potter's wheel, kiln, and spray booth in order to fashion his pottery.

Vocal Winners Bring Home Many Firsts

Vocal Department

In the district vocal and piano contest, 19 S.H.S. events placed first, and 11 of these went on to win highest ratings in the state contest. This performance indicates how Mr. Martin Schulz, director of the vocal music department, encourages and promotes student participation in the various musical and vocal groups. This year the Robed Choir with its 94 members has entertained in the various programs at school, such as at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. They also entertained before the Rotary Club and presented their annual sacred concert at the Methodist Church. The officers for Robed Choir were president, Dan Barnett; vice-president, Don Sexton; secretary, Mary Jane Dennis.

The Singing Stars, which consist of 19 girls, are selected on voice quality, showmanship, and personality. The officers were president, Becky Whitcomb; vice-president, Gloria Spurlin; secretary-treasurer, Karen Gunning.

The Glee Club, composed of 53 boys, is also selected on these three qualities. The officers for the Glee Club were Wilfred Coers, president; Dave Moore, vice-president; Phil Smith, secretary-treasurer.

The Show Group, whose members are the Singing Stars, Boys' Glee Club, and special dancers, performed frequently before various groups throughout the community.

And Work For School Spirit

Two weeks before school began, the band, directed by Mr. Francis Chesser, was at S.H.S. working on precision marching routines for the football games. Led by the Drum Majorette, Judy Branson, it presented spirited half-time shows. The band attended High School Band Day at I. U. in October and participated in half-time festivities with 7000 other bandsmen and majorettes from Indiana high schools. During basketball season, the majorettes presented the half-time activities. The band did much to further school spirit, by prefacing each contest with lively music. The Booster Club joined in with clapping and song.

The band members sold chocolate bars to raise money for new band uniforms. The beautiful black and gold uniforms arrived in December, and the members and students are equally proud of them. In February, there were 14 first placings at the district instrumental contest, and three firsts were awarded to S.H.S. band members at the state contest. The new uniforms were worn at the annual concert in March, which was held at the Paul Cross gym. The Goldenaires performed at the traditional May Festival and the band presented a marching routine.

This year the Shelbyville High School Student Council joined the National Association of Student Council. Their activities included sponsoring a mixer dance at the beginning of the school year, the Homecoming ceremonies, the Fall-Wind-Up Dance, selling Directories, and hosting the annual open house. They also regulated the nomination of class officers, campaign posters, speeches of the candidates, and conducted the elections.

Each year the Student Council grows in size and importance. This year twenty-three representatives served their home rooms with Ronnie Cole as president; Charles O'Connor, vice-president; Phil Kuhn, treasurer; Peggy Vaught, recording secretary; Linda Trueb, corresponding secretary; and Ross Rowland, parliamentarian. These officers also served on the Student Council Executive Committee with the class presidents, the Squib editor, and one elected representative from each class. Mrs. Rita Comstock was the sponsor and Mr. Frank Barnes was the advisor.

Hi-Y Establishes A Scholarship

Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter convocations were sponsored by the Hi-Y this year. They also maintained a coat check during every home basketball game, and were responsible for presenting devotions at the beginning of each Monday morning's bulletin.

A total of 98 boys were enrolled in this year's club whose purpose is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and local community high standards of Christian character." Mr. Loren Hemingway was the sponsor, and Mr. Arthur Barnett and Mr. Alan Coyner assisted him.

The officers for this year's club were Mike Brunner, president; Jay Clapp, vice-president; Don Sexton, secretary; and Dan Barnett, treasurer.

"Others" is the motto of the Sunshine Society of S.H.S. This year they have carried out this motto through their projects of selling candy, purchasing mirrors for the girls' rest rooms, giving gift baskets at Christmas, buying a TB bond, decorating the school Christmas trees, and remembering the faculty with small gifts on holidays. The society strives to leave its mark of kindness, cheerfulness, helpfulness, and happiness to others.

The cabinet members of the senior division are president, Margaret Gushwa; vice-president, Nancy Scott; secretary, Gloria Spurling. Senior sponsor is Miss Lorena Williams. The officers of the junior society are Shari Long, Jean O'Mara, and Geraldine Reber, with Mrs. Clarine Webster as sponsor. The sophomore leaders are Sharon Theobald, Bonnie Ingle, Carolyn Foushee, and Cindy Haehl. Mrs. Dorothy Plymate is the sophomore sponsor.

Calisthenics or play practice? Six girls presented "Along Came Harriet."

Future Actors Test Their Talents

Three one-act plays are presented annually before the public by the Mask and Dagger. This year the plays were "Along Came Harriet", a comedy with a cast of six directed by Ann Schoelch, "Take a Letter" another comedy with a cast of six directed by Mike Thomasson, and "A Certain Just Man" a melodrama directed by Mr. J. Daniel Kocher, the club sponsor. Students direct and act, besides managing the publicity, ticket sales, staging, and make-up. For two months there was much practicing and planning in connection with the three productions.

Mask and Dagger was organized four years ago by Mr. Kocher in his first year of teaching speech at S.H.S. It is named to represent the masks used by all Greek actors in 400 B.C. and the dagger of the old melodramas. This year's business was handled by Ross Rowland, president; Beccy Hendrickson, vice-president; Bob Stickles, secretary-treasurer.

Interesting Topics Spur Heated Debates

"Cuba," "The Congo," "Ole Miss"—these were some of the topics which the Forum members discussed in bi-weekly meetings. Through discussions they learned to think seriously and clearly, express themselves clearly and forcefully, and to prepare themselves for voting and active participation in civic life.

A leadership group was chosen by the members of Forum by rating one another on the basis of participation, interest, knowledge of the subject, strength in arguments, respect, and preparation. This group then chose new Forum members from the discussion group, a preliminary training organization.

This year Forum consisted of 59 juniors and seniors. Dan Barnett, president, was assisted by Bob Bremer, vice president; Ann Schoelch, secretary; and Jay Clapp, treasurer. Forum, Discussion Group, and the Leadership Group are supervised by Mr. Ray Hinshaw.

Future Nurses Man Clinic

Acquainting the junior and senior girls who are members of the Future Nurses Club with the qualifications, duties, and experiences of the nursing profession is the purpose of this club, which meets once a month. Again this year, the club provided an opportunity for its members to work under actual conditions by carrying trays, flowers, and magazines to the patients at Major Hospital. It helped them to realize the rich satisfactions of the profession and the opportunities for leadership. Through seeing films, visiting nursing schools, and hearing talks by Registered Nurses, the girls also learned more about the profession. It is hoped that each club member has chosen nursing as a career because she wants to do what she can to make sick people well and well people healthy.

A member of the club was on duty each hour of the school day in the school's clinic. The girls kept records for the clinic offices and helped ailing students whenever they could. Officers were Shirley McNew, president; Becky Whitcomb, vice-president; Ann Taylor, secretary; and Jenny Jones, treasurer. Miss Dorothy Morgan and Mrs. Clarine Webster are the co-sponsors of the Future Nurses Club.

"The Junior Prom really has been a big headache!" complains junior class president, Rich Adams, as Mary Beth Abel comforts him.

Many Educators Speak to Future Teachers

Guided by Mr. Louis Kuhn, sponsor; Don Sexton, president; Karen McNew, vice-president; and Alice Griffith, secretary-treasurer, the Future Teachers Association enjoyed a worthwhile year. Members attended monthly programs to hear talks on the profession of education from Mr. Malcolm Clay and Mr. John Bass, S.H.S. guidance personnel; Miss Ann Williamson, an exchange teacher from Scotland; Miss Mary Belle Stuart, Ball State student; and Mr. Charles Thompson, Greensburg teacher and coach. At times, films were presented at meetings. Cadet teaching was again sponsored by F. T. A. as 30 future teachers observed classes at elementary schools and at Junior High School. As the need for teachers increases, the role of this club becomes more important in attracting capable members to this profession.

Journalism Class Reports S. H. S. News

Journalism students worked diligently learning advertising, reporting, editorial writing, and proofreading. The purpose of the course is to teach students the basic principles of all aspects of the journalism profession.

Miss Marion Chenoweth's Courier staff provided issues of the school paper every three weeks, plus one April Fool edition—"We Ferry the Fibs to You". S.H.S. exchanged papers with many Indiana schools and several from other states. The exchange papers provided the staff with new ideas for content and form of Courier. The class also visited the Shelbyville News to see how a newspaper is published.

Danny Davis and Nancy Scott wrote the high school column for the city paper after being selected from last year's journalism class. The winners received scholarships entitling them to attend the High School Journalism Institute at Indiana University last summer, where they learned about writing and advertising.

Squib Staff Establishes A "Squib Day"

Squib Staff members worked many hours after school to meet the deadline.

The Squib bulletin board was the favorite place for S.H.S. students to obtain the latest information about Squib sales, read the "quote of the day" and the humorous "Believe it or Not." The publicity team also promoted a "Squib Day", on the first Thursday after Ground-Hog Day, to encourage Squib sales.

Meanwhile the Editorial Staff headed by Margaret Gushwa, editor, and Miss Nancy Cuskaden, advisor, was drawing the lay-out, proofreading and typing the copy, scheduling picture taking, and identifying people in pictures. Helpers often worked after school and during study sessions.

The Business Staff was headed by Bob Longstreet, business manager, and Mr. Lawrence Thompson, advisor. During convocation periods and before and after school, they collected money and sales receipts from seniors.

Future Farmers

If you saw a boy wearing a "green hand", it meant he was a new member of the Future Farmers of America, who had joined in order to participate in projects concerning agriculture. The club's officers this year were Keith Theobald, president; Fred Bohman, vice-president; Rickie Brown, secretary; and Alton Adkins, treasurer. The sponsor, Mr. Garnett Winchester, guided the members as they took part in judging events and worked together on experiments having to do with the planting and harvesting of farm crops. F. F. A. conducted their annual sale of seeds to raise funds.

Since its founding in 1921 at West Virginia University, and its beginning at S.H.S. in 1959, F. F. A. has sown and reaped many benefits from its efforts.

Science Club

A new club organized by the new physics teacher this year was the Science Club sponsored by Mr. William McFerran. The purpose of this organization is to provide opportunity for its members to study the practical application of scientific theories. One project idea was the making of a six-inch telescope, including the grinding of the lens and assembly of the instrument. When more completely organized, the science club hopes to conduct several scientific experiments. Other plans include field trips to Allison's Powerama, Holcomb Observatory at Butler University, and Pittsburgh Plate Glass. Officers for 1962-63 were Mark Comstock, president; Mike Chafee, vice-president; and Bill Warwick, secretary.

Library Club

A student may go to the library to read current newspapers and magazines or to choose from the 4,350 books which offer entertainment and information. Mrs. Olive Kinsley, librarian, points out that the state's recommendation is for libraries to provide ten books for each student; therefore she is working toward a goal of 8,000 books, for which ample space is already provided at the S.H.S. library. Audio-visual equipment such as movie projectors and tape recorders are also handled by the library.

The library club, whose members help each day, is headed by Karen McNew, president; Donna Rhyal, vice-president; and Carolyn Bagnall, secretary.

Radio Club

The purpose of the Radio Club, under the direction of Mr. Melvin Davies (W9PLO), is to work with students interested in amateur radio, and to help them obtain their licenses. The 1962-63 officers are: president, Mark Comstock (K9GCU); vice-president, Doug Horton (W9DUG); secretary, Vicky Scheffler (WN9BYA); and treasurer, Fred Conger (K9RKO). Mr. Wray Orem (K9QGD) sponsors the club at the Junior high school. The clubs hold meetings during the home room period every month, and one after school each month, to practice radio code, discuss the operation of "ham" sets, and communicate with people around the world.

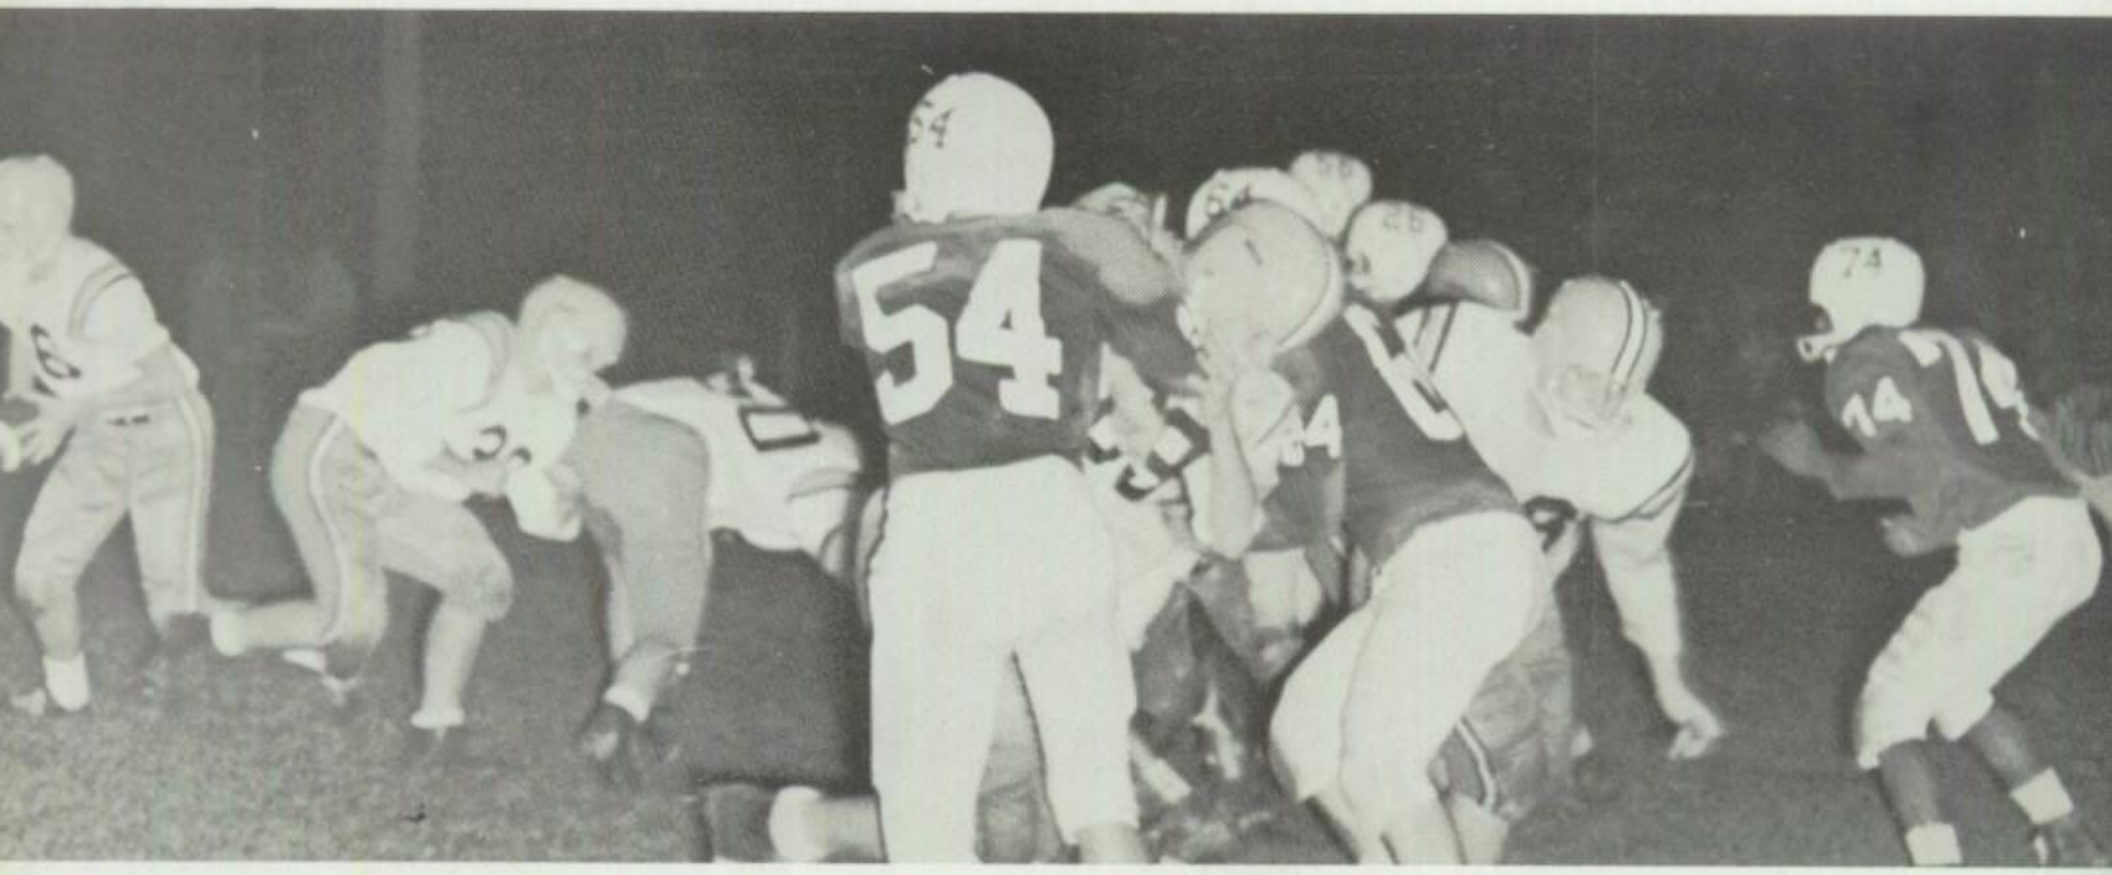
Records Do Not Tell Whole Football Story

". . . Hike!" The Shelby line holds back the foe while Pete Worden goes for yardage.



Young Bears Gain Valuable Experience

Although the Golden Bears lost all nine scheduled games during the 1962 football season, they were never accused of lacking the fight, desire, and will to win. In several different games the Bears outplayed the opposition in every category except the score.

The outlook for head coach Bob Zimny and assistant coaches Art Morgan and Eugene McNew in the future is very good with 33 of the 44-man roster being underclassmen. These underclassmen gained valuable playing experience this year and better performance is expected of them next year, since the reserve team was undefeated.

Coach Zimny loses only six senior lettermen, but these seniors made up six of the seven starting positions in the line. Larry Cochran was selected as the most valuable player by his teammates and named to the all S.C.C. team. Jay Clapp was named outstanding lineman, and he and Steve Lancaster were voted honorary co-captains by the team. Jay Clapp, Phil Smith, and Pete McNamara received honorable mention on the all conference team. The other senior letterman was Dan Barnett.

Tennis

The tennis team had five matches this fall preceeding the conference meet, winning over Martinsville and Greensburg, but losing to Columbus, Southport, and Connersville. The team then placed fourth in the conference meet in competition with 9 other schools. Scott Griffey won his first singles match, but lost the second to the eventual champion, Connersville. Mike Shadley was defeated in his first match. Larry Moberly and Bill Williams entered the doubles and won their first match; however, they were defeated in the semi-finals by Southport, the final winner. Joe Riemenschneider was the alternate to the conference. Coach Loren Hemingway reports that four players will graduate this June.

Golf

The Shelby golf team won the S.C.C. conference title for the second consecutive year. At the meet in Martinsville in September, Shelby won the top two medalist placings with Steve Lackey scoring 75, and Mike Thomasson 76. This victory came after the regular season play in which Shelby placed first in two of its three scheduled meets. The Shelby team, coached by Mr. Frank Barnes, hosts its opponents at the local Elks Club golf course.

Cross Country

As the course for cross country runners is two miles in length, these athletes train for stamina and endurance, according to Coach Dennis Blind. Shelby met its opponents on the school grounds immediately west of the building in September and October and was often "spurred on" by the S.H.S. band practicing and marching nearby. In its ten meets, Shelby was most often led by Steve Mullen, junior, who scored two firsts. However, the team was unable to take first place in any meet. In scoring, the first five runners collect the same number of points as their placing indicates; therefore, the lowest scoring team wins.

Reserve Football

Reserve games are played to give experience to the younger members of the football squad. Both reserve and varsity players are subjected to the same training. This year's reserve football squad had an almost perfect season, (5-0) winning every game and being scored upon only once. Total Shelby points were 86 while their opponents' combined total was 6 points. Much is expected for next year from these boys who gained valuable experience by their coach, Eugene McNew.

Homecoming and Fall Wind Up

Homecoming at S.H.S. was spotlighted by an unusual celebration planned by the Student Council. It began at the Porter Pool with a bonfire, continued with a snakedance led by the cheerleaders, and ended at the football field, where S.H.S. met Greenfield. Students waited on the field to cheer the team as it entered. Committees decorated the goal posts and made posters to carry. At the half, Shari Long, junior, was crowned queen, then the Rec held a dance after the game. Later the Fall-Wind-Up dance, honoring athletes of fall sports, was held at the Elks Club. Shari and her court reigned over the dance, and the Kiwanis Award was presented.

Kiwanis Award

Jay Clapp, a member of the varsity football team for three years, was the winner of this year's annual Kiwanis Football Award. The award is given to the player whom the committee considers to have displayed outstanding playing ability, sportsmanship, and mental attitude.

Jay has played the positions of tackle and corner linebacker. He was not only named co-captain of his team, but was also the recipient of the outstanding lineman's award. Jay's athletic ability is not limited to football; he has played varsity baseball for three years and was on the Golden Bear varsity basketball team this past year.

Paul Cross Award

The Paul Cross Award is presented annually to the basketball player or players who are chosen on the basis of loyalty to school, training, sportsmanship, and ability. The award was founded by the late Reverend S. J. Cross in honor of his son, Paul, who was the first Shelby County boy to die in World War I.

The co-recipients of the 44th annual Paul Cross Award were senior guard Ron Cole and senior forward Mike Brunner. Ron averaged 11 points per game, and he hit 70 percent of his free throws. Defensively he topped his teammates to win the best defensive player award, and his teammates gave him the honor of naming him team captain. Mike averaged 16.1 points per game and came down with 139 rebounds. He was rewarded for his fine effort by being elected the most valuable player by his teammates. His field goal average was 41 percent.

The awards were presented at the annual Awards Day Program in the spring.

Bears Fight With Vigor And Valor

Under the coaching of Mr. Dennis Blind, with the assistance of Mr. Loren "Hank" Hemingway, the Shelbyville Golden Bears had a good season with a record of eleven wins and twelve losses. Of those twelve losses, six were decided by a total of ten points. In the South Central Conference, Shelbyville had a record of five wins and four losses. This gave the Bears fourth place in the conference.

Several victories were possible because the Golden Bears, although hindered many times by cold shooting and lack of height, showed a lot of hustle on defense and rebounding. Fans who followed the Golden Bears can testify that the team always played hard and did its best against such high-ranked teams as Anderson, Bloomington, Columbus, Jeffersonville, and Madison.

This year's team set an example for future Shelbyville Golden Bears in spirit and desire to win. This was evidenced in Shelbyville's final home game of the 1962-63 season in which the Golden Bears turned back a big Crispus Attucks team in a double overtime by a score of 67-66. This conclusion was a fitting tribute to an exciting Shelbyville High School basketball season.

B-Team Finishes The Season With A Bang!

The Golden Bear reserve basketball squad finished the season with a 7-11 (won-lost) record, trouncing Crispus Attucks 49-35 in the last game. Winning the last four games, the team showed its strength and skill which had developed throughout the year. Coach Art Morgan pointed out that six games were lost by three points or less. There was no B-team tournament this year. Many schools changed their policies from playing mid-week games to Saturday games. Thus among the four schools who play in the New Year's contest, there was no Saturday night available for their reserve squads to clash.

With eight seniors graduating from the varsity, some of the reserve players will be moved up next season. Carl Brown, Keith Patterson, and Bobby Phillips may be first in line for promotion, according to this year's record. All of the boys worked hard, scrimmaging with the varsity, or practicing at the gym after the varsity had finished. Since the nucleus of the team was composed of freshmen and sophomores, S.H.S. should have bright prospects for next year.

Baseball

The 1963 S.H.S. baseball team was expected to be a leading contender for the Conference Title with eight lettermen returning from last year's team. The 1962 team finished third in the S.C.C. and ended the season winning seven out of their last eight games. Their overall record was ten wins and five losses.

Head coach Dennis Blind and assistant coach Art Morgan planned to build the nucleus of the team around the seven senior lettermen and one sophomore letterman. Returning starters from last year's team were Dan Barnett at first base, Ronnie Cole at second base, Jay Clapp, last year's batting champ, at third base, Steve Lancaster at catcher, and Phil Kuhn in center field. Daryl Tippin, Keith Patterson, the only returning underclassmen letter winner, and Pete McNamara also were counted on heavily. Much was also expected from sophomore pitcher, Denny Fox.

Track

With only 6 returning lettermen, Coaches Bob Zimny and Eugene McNew were again rebuilding the track team. Only seven of the 50 candidates were seniors.

The strongest points were expected to be the mile run with Steve Mullen and Richard Damn and the half mile with Robert Bremer and Mike Brunner. Our mile relay team was also a strong competitor.

Our main weakness was in the field events. Besides Don Sexton in the high jump, there was no prospect of outstanding athletes in these events.

Cheerleaders Stimulate Enthusiasm

The cheerleaders, helped by the chorus of the Booster Club and Cheer Block, are the voice of Shelbyville High School and often echo the thoughts of the coaches. The chants include everything from wishes, "Hey steal it, steal it", and orders, "You've got that ball, now go!" to pleas, "Hey we need two!" and support, "Come on team, we're backing you to win." The yells ranged from "Go get 'em Bears, Go get 'em" to "We've got the Bears on our team, they're grrrrreat!" The loyalty and enthusiasm endured through thick and thin. The big hoop for the team to enter through was a topic of much conversation and work.

The varsity cheerleaders, under the direction of Mrs. Betty Ramey, were Barbara Hey, Shari Long, Karen McNew, Terry Wagner, juniors, and Jean Gehr, senior and captain. The reserve cheerleaders were Pam Adams, Susan McComas, Nancy Coers, and Sally Vaught. They sparked the spirit for the reserve team games and cheered on future varsity players.

The sentiments of the boys' Cheer Block are proudly displayed for all to see.

Boy's Cheer Block

The Boy's Cheer Block pep banners and chants lent extra excitement to the atmosphere of home basketball games. "Whomp 'em" with its pun on "wampun," an Indian term for money, was the sign used to ask the Golden Bears to defeat the Anderson Indians. "V-i-c-t-o-r-y—that's the Cheer Block's battle cry!", was the often heard chant begun by the sophomores of the Girl's Booster Club, repeated by the juniors and seniors and Cheer Block, and ended by the combined yelling of both organizations as the "Shelby battle cry."

Members, who sat in block formation wearing white shirts in the Paul Cross Gym, also supported the team at the sectional. Membership, numbering nearly 200, was open to all S.H.S. boys. Officers were Bill Williams, president; Gerald Mohr, vice president; and Don Harris, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Ray Beck was the sponsor.

Booster Club

Members of the Booster Club worked exceptionally hard this year on various projects which included putting eye-catching posters in the halls before each game, relining all the reversible black capes with bright gold material, passing out individual signs for students and teachers on game days, and making hoops for special games. They learned several new yells this year such as, "Ch-Ch-Ch," "Hey Look Us Over," and "Bears Are Grreat." Providing enough girls signed up, a bus was taken to the out-of-town games.

The purpose of the Booster Club is to promote school spirit and stand behind the team regardless of winning or losing streaks. There were approximately 180 members of the Booster Club this year consisting of sophomores, juniors, seniors, and, as alternates, freshmen.

The sponsor of the Booster Club was Mrs. Betty Ramey. The officers were Ann Schoelch, president; Dottie Owens, vice-president; Pauline Hall, secretary; and Ann Woodmansee, treasurer.

Sports And Scholarship Make A Good Team

S-Club

The annual fall initiation and dinner, at which faculty men were guests, reminded the 47 members of S-CLUB of its purposes—to promote high scholarship and clean sportsmanship and to create and maintain a high regard for the athletic awards of the school. Other activities included handling concessions at football games, and holding a pep session to send the basketball team into the sectional.

"S" CLUB is composed of S.H.S. athletic letter winners with an 81 or higher scholastic average, who are unanimously elected by the club's members. Officers were Jay Clapp, president; Mike Brunner, vice president; and Ronnie Cole, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Arthur Barnett was their sponsor.

N. A. S. S.

The National Athletic Scholarship Society consists of a group of varsity athletes who have achieved a scholastic average of 87 per cent or higher. The purpose of the N. A. S. S. is to give recognition to those boys who excel both in athletics and scholarship. It is strictly an honorary organization having no officers or regular meetings.

In order to become a member of the N. A. S. S., a boy must have received the letter "S" in one of the four major sports or have obtained two letters in minor sports. New members are announced each year at the annual Spring Awards Day Program.

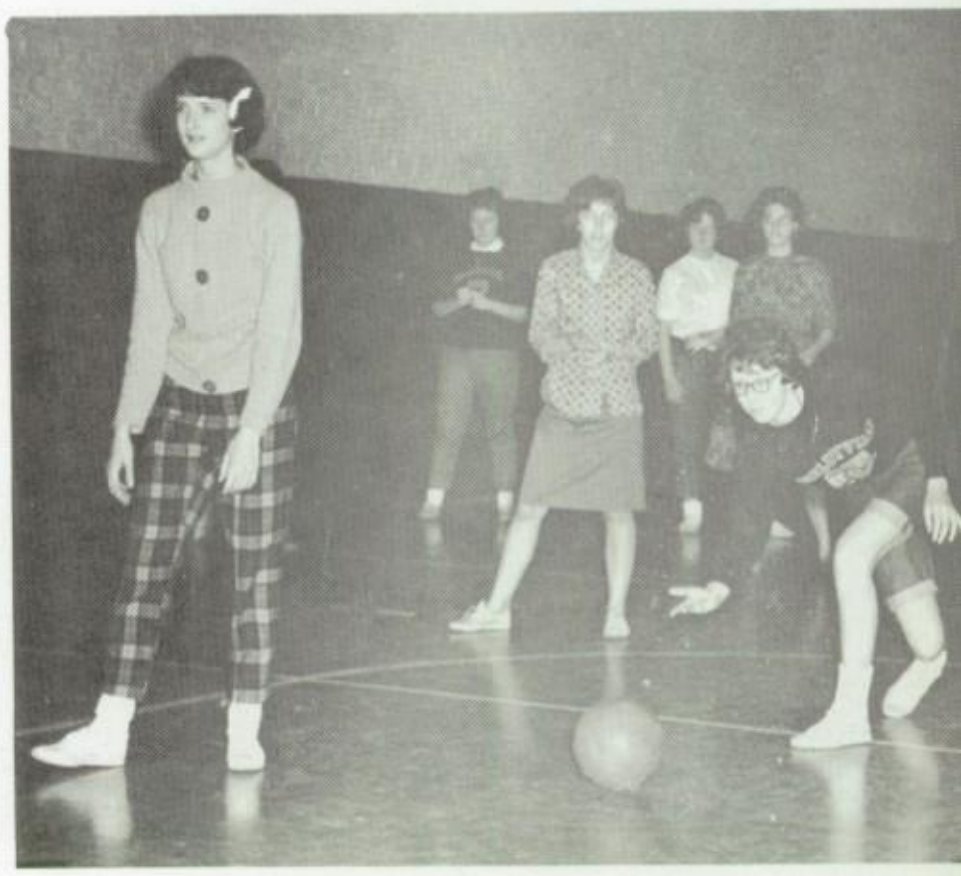
New G.A.A. Sponsor Gives Tumbling Tests

Led by a new sponsor, Miss Loretta Taylor, who is J.H.S.'s girls' physical education instructor, the Girls' Athletic Association promoted interest in athletics for girls. The officers for the past year were Jean O'Mara, president; Manarda Payne, vice-president; Debra Nelson, secretary; Cheryl Wickliff, treasurer; Shirley O'Mara, point captain; and Carolyn Anspaugh, sports captain.

Any girl enrolled at S.H.S. could join G.A.A. to participate in its several sports, bowling, volleyball, basketball, and tumbling. Members took skill tests in tumbling individually or in pairs to accumulate points which made them eligible for awards such as pins, letters, and plaques at the end of the year.



Girls play to improve physical fitness.

Year Ends – 161 Seniors Face The Future

We of the 1963 Squib Staff hope that this year's book will bring out the true feeling of the year. I would personally like to thank the 1963 Squib Staff for their fine work and cooperation, Mr. Chafee for the excellent pictures he has taken throughout the year, Tippecanoe Press, and all the concessionaires for their hard work at the games.

A yearbook would be impossible without the help of the sponsors, Miss Cuskaden, Mr. Thompson and Mr. Barnett. Each has worked hard to produce the best results in his department.

Of course the Squib could not be published without the cooperation of the S.H.S. faculty and student body. To all, a heartfilled thanks.

Away!

by James Whitcomb Riley

I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead! He is just away!
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land.
And left us dreaming how very fair
It must be, since he lingers there.
And you, — O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return,-
Think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here;
Mild and gentle as he was brave,-
When the sweetest love of his life he gave
To simple things: - where the violets grew
Pure as the eyes they were likened to,
The touch of his hands have strayed
As reverently as his lips have prayed.
Think of him still as the same, I say;
He is not dead — he is just away!

"How many more cases of coke cups should I fill ?" puzzles Dave Moore, as Jenny Jones and Danny Davis sell fast and furiously.

"The Heath bars are very good tonight" confides Linda Trueb as she persuades a spectator to buy her wares.

Popcorn ! Cokes ! Ice Cream !

These were the cries of the concessionaires as they sold their wares at all of the home basketball games. Linda Trueb, president, decided what color outfits the girls would wear each time to complement their bright gold aprons. The girls made change in the crowd or at one of the six stands which were convenient to buyers and sellers alike. Trailing behind the girls, up and down the bleachers, senior boys could be seen carrying cases of cokes. Diligent seniors went to the gym after school on game nights to pop corn in anticipation of hungry fans.

As the profits from refreshments served to finance the Squib, both Mr. Lawrence Thompson, business staff sponsor, and Mr. Arthur Barnett, concessions sponsor, supervised the project and helped often. Robert Longstreet, business manager and Phil Smith, concessions manager, kept the staff informed as to how they were doing in comparison to last year's sales. New sales records were set at several games this year.

Honored Seniors

Lord Mayor and Valedictorian

Dan Barnett, our Lord Mayor and Valedictorian, has also been very active in clubs and sports throughout the year. Dan is taking a college prep course and plans to attend college in the fall. He is one of the four chosen to attend the World Affairs Institute held in Cincinnati. He is president of the Forum and Robed Choir and treasurer of the Hi-Y. Dan enjoys art as a hobby.

Vestavia Award and D.A.R. Award

The Vestavia Award is given to the girl with the highest accumulative average. This year's winner is Lana Jo Livingston. Lana Jo also received the D.A.R. Award, given on the basis of scholarship, leadership, attitude, and personality. Being assistant editor of the Squib has kept her very busy during the year. She has taken a commercial course and has been secretary to both Mr. McKeand and Mr. Clay.

Commercial Award

Ann Crafton received the Commercial Award presented by the Business and Professional Women's Club. Commerce grades, grades in other courses, and personality, including cooperation, initiative, ability to follow directions, and school attitude are the factors which determine the award winner who also receives a gift of $50. Ann, who has participated in many school activities, plans to attend business college and continue secretarial work.

Boys Monopolize National Honor Society

The 24 newly elected members of National Honor Society were honored at a dinner meeting in the spring with their parents and teachers as guests. Traditionally, the meeting is conducted by alumni from the community. Martin Cherry, this year's president organized a program centering around the speaker, Reverend James Horner. Invocation was given by Reverend Ronald Felty; Duane Murphy welcomed the new members; Mrs. Richard Jester challenged them to continue with excellence. Mr. Sharp presented N.H.S. pins and Mr. Breck dismissed the group with a benediction. Susan DePrez, JHS student played music during dinner.
